June 2019

Dear Parents and Students,

It's hard to believe that another school year is coming to a close. We hope all of you have enjoyed this year and your daughter has gained a lot from her classes. Of course as the year winds down, the summer approaches. And so, summer reading cannot be far behind!

At Bruria, we strive to create a dynamic atmosphere of literacy through independent reading, student choice, and lively discussion. In order to maximize their reading experience, we have compiled a list of questions for the girls to consider as they read. In addition, we have assembled a sampling of the type of assignments they will be given once school starts. These are not the actual assignments, just questions for your consideration while reading.

Our plan is to make the summer reading more meaningful. By perusing these questions the students will have a better understanding of both the teacher's goals and the goals inherent in the reading.

Wishing you a pleasant summer.
